This map is a second edition and we appreciate all comments. We have done our best to provide an up-to-date map. However, all roads and features are not shown at this scale. All roads in Africa, even paved ones, are generally of poor quality. Good judgement and a well provisioned and maintained all-terrain (4wd) vehicle are recommended. Provide yourself with plenty of water, fuel, food, clothing, as well as automotive parts and repair tools. Tertiary roads, tracks, and trails may be difficult to find or follow as they may be no more than an oxcart track, foot path, or approximate overland route without any distinguishable road markings. Road conditions vary depending on the season and may be in a state of disrepair due to the current economic situation of the country or province. The author and the publisher do not accept any liability for incorrect road or feature information. Nor do we accept responsibility for you getting lost or for any injury, death, or financial loss that may occur while or because of using this map. However, we do wish to provide the most accurate information possible so please forward all comments regarding errors, omissions and suggestions to the publisher, ITMB Ltd, 530 West Broadway, Vancouver B.C.
